Delegation Principles

In exercising any delegated function, a delegate must observe the following Principles.

1.	Delegated functions may only be exercised if provided for by a Standing Delegation or a specific delegation from Council.
2.	These delegations are to be exercised subject to and in accordance with any relevant legislation, including, but not limited to, the UTS Act and UTS By-law, as well as the Rules of the University, UTS Enterprise Agreements, University policies, Codes of Conduct, Vice-Chancellor's Directives, Guidelines, Procedures and management designations, authorisations and instructions.
3.	In the event of any inconsistency between the contents of this document, and the contents of any policy or procedural documents, the contents of this document prevail.
4.	<ol style="list-style-type: none">a. Delegated functions may not be exercised by a person who is not a UTS employee unless instrument of delegation expressly states that such delegation may be exercised by a contractor or other person who is not an employee.b. In exercising any delegation, the delegate must act in the interests of the University, for the purpose delegated and not for any improper purpose.
5.	In exercising any delegation, the delegate must have regard to any relevant Principles of procedural fairness.
6.	A delegation of a authority to a Pro Vice-Chancellor or Dean or Faculty Board is limited to the business and affairs of the relevant Faculty/Function unless otherwise specified in the terms of the delegation.
7.	Delegations to persons holding specific positions: a delegation relates to the delegate's position, not the individual occupying the position. An authority delegated to an officer of the University extends to any person officially acting in that position on a temporary basis, unless otherwise specified in the appointment to act.
8.	Delegations to individuals: delegations have been created with the University's organisation structure in mind. Delegations are therefore included in those held by a delegate's supervisor. If an officer is unable to carry out the duties associated with his or her delegation for any reason, including a potential or actual conflict of interest or a temporary incapacity or absence, the delegation may be exercised by the delegate's supervisor. Delegations 1.10 to 1.13 operate in exception to this Principle.
9.	To ensure administrative efficiency of University operations: <ol style="list-style-type: none">a. a delegate under Delegation 1.2 may authorise any employee under that delegate's supervision to expend funds for and on behalf of, and in the name of, that delegate, which do not exceed thresholds of $20,000, $10,000 and $5000. Any authorisation may only be granted and exercised in accordance with guidelines issued from time to time by the Chief Financial Officer. The Principles applying to the exercise of Council delegations apply equally to holders of authorisations to expend funds.b. where provision is made within Section 2 of the Standing Delegations, a delegate may authorise an employee under that delegate's supervision to perform functions for and on behalf of, and in the name of, that delegate, provided that the authorisation is approved by the Provost. Any authorisation may only be granted and exercised in accordance with guidelines issued from time to time by the Director, Human Resources. The Principles applying to the exercise of Council delegations apply equally to holders of human resources authorisations.
10.	Delegations to committees, including committees of Academic Board and Faculty Boards, can only be made by Council and must be exercised in accordance with the committees' normal approved decision-making processes. The delegation of a function to a committee or a board is made on the basis that the committee will itself exercise the function without making any further delegation. Accordingly, any action or decision purportedly taken by the chair or a sub-group of a committee or board under a function delegated to a committee or a board has no effect unless Council has explicitly made a delegation to the chair or sub-group.

11. In exercising a delegated function, a delegate may seek appropriate advice in order to be properly informed. However, the delegated function must be exercised by the delegate without any undue influence by any other person or body.
12. A delegate (officer or committee) has the authority to make decisions in either the positive or negative. That is, for all decisions taken, the delegate may either determine to take a particular action (including to rescind, disestablish and terminate) or to take no action.
13. Members of the UTS Senior Executive may act on urgent matters in the absence of other members, in accordance with Appendix A . Council has determined that, in the deemed absence of both the Chancellor and the Deputy Chancellor, the Chancellor's authority with respect to affixing the seal or taking executive action or approving any matter which Council has delegated to the Chancellor shall be exercised by a member of the Council not being a member of the staff of the University in a specified order subject to their availability: see Appendix B .
14. Delegation limits apply to transactions and a transaction may not be separated into parts, nor may the total cost of a transaction be set off by deductions or trade-ins in order to meet a limit on a delegate's authority. Generally, taxes and duties are to be included in the total cost of the transaction except, where claimable ¹ , the Goods and Services Tax (GST), which is not to be included. A delegation is required both to enter into the transaction and to authorise the payments under the transaction. Except in the case of capital works (see Delegation 1.3), a variation in the cost of a transaction must be approved by the delegate who approved the original transaction, if the total amount is within their delegation. Should the sum of the variation and the original cost exceed the delegate's authority, the variation must be submitted for approval to another delegate who has the necessary level of authority.
15. Authorisation to operate a UTS corporate credit card does not of itself confer on a staff member a delegation to commit or expend funds. Acquittal of purchases made by credit card, as for purchases made by any other means, must be approved by a delegate who has authorisation under these Standing Delegations, or a specific delegation from Council or under a rule.
16. a. A delegate or nominee may not exercise a delegation that would provide them with any direct or indirect benefit. Therefore, delegates may not approve matters including their own appointment, remuneration, payment or reimbursement, promotion, transfer or secondment, travel, absence or termination. b. Where members of the UTS Council or a Council committee are involved in any way other than in their role as a Council or Council committee member, and the delegate (or nominee) is aware of that involvement, the delegate (or nominee) must disclose that involvement to the University Secretary. The University Secretary must notify the Chancellor. In such cases, no delegation may be exercised until the University Secretary has confirmed in writing, the approval of the use of the delegated authority.
17. The Council may withdraw any delegation at any time without notice.
18. Where a power or authority is delegated to exercise functions, then that power or authority extends to the execution of documents (eg contracts, agreements) necessary to give effect to that function (in accordance with the relevant Rules, policies and procedures of the University relating to the execution of documents) unless a specific delegation states otherwise.
19. It is a requirement that records be kept of all decisions taken under these Standing Delegations.

The University Secretary is responsible for maintaining a register of delegations approved by Council, in accordance with Rule G5 of the General Rules of the University; while the Chief Financial Officer is responsible for maintaining the Principle 9 expenditure authorisations register and the Director, Human Resources, is responsible for maintaining the Principle 9 human resources authorisations register.

The University Secretary is also required to undertake an annual review of the delegations and the Principle 9 authorisations, and submit a report to Council that includes recommendations for new delegations and for amendment or rescission of existing delegations.

¹ For all taxable supplies except the following: entertainment (unless subject to Fringe Benefits Tax (FBT)); relatives; travel (unless subject to FBT); club and leisure facilities or boats (unless subject to FBT); residential rent (unless the charity exemption applies); non-compulsory uniforms; penalties; and certain non-cash business benefits used for private purposes.
